As in prior periods, the financial information set forth in this presentation, including tax-related items, reflects estimates based on information available at this time. While Hewlett Packard Enterprise believes these estimates to be reasonable, these amounts could differ materially from amounts to be reported in the Hewlett Packard Enterprise’s Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended October 31, 2025. Hewlett Packard Enterprise assumes no obligation and does not intend to update these forward-looking statements, except as required by applicable law.

Use of non-GAAP financial information

HPE's management uses net revenue on a constant currency basis, including at the business segment level as more than half of HPE's revenue is generated outside of the U.S., non-GAAP gross profit, non-GAAP gross profit margin, non-GAAP operating profit, non-GAAP operating profit margin (non-GAAP operating profit as a percentage of revenue), non-GAAP operating expenses, non-GAAP interest and other, net, Adjusted Earnings Before Interest, Taxes, Depreciation, and Amortization ("adjusted EBITDA"), non-GAAP income tax rate, non-GAAP net earnings, and non-GAAP diluted net earnings per share, to evaluate and forecast HPE's performance before gains, losses or other charges that are considered by HPE's management to be outside of HPE's operating results. Cash flow from operations and free cash flow are liquidity measures that provide useful information to management about the amount of cash available for investments in HPE's businesses, funding acquisitions, repurchasing stock and other purposes. Net debt represents total short-term and long-term borrowings less cash and cash equivalents, used within the net leverage ratio calculation.

We believe that providing these non-GAAP financial measures, in addition to the related GAAP measures, provides investors with greater transparency to the information used by HPE's management in its financial and operational decision-making and allows investors to see HPE's results "through the eyes" of management. We further believe that providing this information provides investors with a supplemental view to understand our historical and prospective operating performance and to evaluate the efficacy of the methodology and information used by management to evaluate and measure such performance. Disclosure of these non-GAAP financial measures also facilitates the comparison of HPE's operating performance with performance of other companies in HPE's industry that supplement their GAAP results with non-GAAP financial measures that may be calculated in a similar manner.

These non-GAAP financial measures may have limitations as analytical tools, and these measures should not be considered in isolation or as a substitute for analysis of HPE's results as reported under GAAP. For example, items such as stock-based compensation expense, acquisition, disposition and other charges, H3C divestiture related severance costs, and disaster charges (recovery) that are excluded from non-GAAP gross profit and non-GAAP gross profit margin can have a material impact on the equivalent GAAP earnings measure and cash flow. Items such as amortization of intangible assets, though not directly affecting HPE's cash position, represent the loss in value of intangible assets over time. The expense associated with this loss in value is not included in non-GAAP operating profit, non-GAAP operating profit margin, non-GAAP operating expenses, non-GAAP interest and other, net, adjusted EBITDA, non-GAAP income tax rate, non-GAAP net earnings, or non-GAAP diluted net earnings per share, and therefore does not reflect the full economic effect of the loss in value of those intangible assets. In addition, items such as transformation costs, and divestiture related exit costs that are excluded from non-GAAP operating profit, non-GAAP operating profit margin, non-GAAP operating expenses, non-GAAP interest and other, net, adjusted EBITDA, non-GAAP income tax rate, non-GAAP net earnings, and non-GAAP diluted net earnings per share can have a material impact on the equivalent GAAP earnings measures and cash flow. Items such as, adjustments to non-service net periodic benefit cost/credit, litigation judgments, tax indemnification and related adjustments, adjustments for equity interests, gain on sale of a business, and gain/loss on investments, net that are excluded from non-GAAP income tax rate, non-GAAP net earnings, and non-GAAP diluted net earnings per share can have a material impact on the equivalent GAAP earnings measure and cash flow. Items such as excess tax benefits from stock-based compensation, structural rate adjustment and the related tax impact from other non-GAAP measures that are excluded from the non-GAAP income tax rate, non-GAAP net earnings, and non-GAAP diluted net earnings per share can also have a material impact on the equivalent GAAP earnings measures and cash flow. In addition, free cash flow does not represent the total increase or decrease in cash for the period.

Some of the limitations in relying on these non-GAAP financial measures are that they may be calculated differently by other companies, limiting the usefulness of those measures for comparative purposes, can differ materially from the comparable GAAP measures due to exclusion of items mentioned above and may not reflect the full economic effect of the loss in value of certain assets. We compensate for the limitations on our use of these non-GAAP financial measures by relying primarily on our GAAP financial statements and using non-GAAP financial measures only as a supplemental. We also provide robust and detailed reconciliations of each non-GAAP financial measure to the most directly comparable GAAP measure, and we encourage investors to review those reconciliations carefully.

HPE provides certain forward-looking guidance on a non-GAAP basis only. Hewlett Packard Enterprise is unable to provide a reconciliation to the most directly comparable GAAP financial measure without unreasonable efforts, as the Company cannot predict some elements that are included in such directly comparable GAAP financial measure. These elements could have a material impact on the Company's reported GAAP results for the guidance period. Refer to the discussion of non-GAAP financial measures below for more information.

Growing sovereign demand contributing to record backlog

1. Orders and backlog figures presented on this slide are as of the ends of the quarterly periods presented and remain subject to ongoing adjustment for a variety of reasons (including but not limited to re-bookings, cancellations, and fulfillment issues).

ARR¹ up >60% in FY25

GreenLake Customers

Annualized Revenue Run-Rate¹

1. Annualized Revenue Run-Rate ("ARR") is a financial metric used to assess the growth of the Consumption Services offerings. ARR represents the annualized revenue of all net HPE GreenLake cloud services revenue, related financial services revenue (which includes rental income from operating leases and interest income from finance leases), and software-as-a-Service, software consumption revenue, and other as-a-Service offerings, by taking such revenue recognized during a quarter and multiplying by four. To better align the calculation of ARR with Juniper Networks' business and offerings, beginning with the quarter ended July 31, 2025, we also included revenue from software licenses support and maintenance in our ARR calculation, and will continue to do so going forward. The impact of this change was not material to the current and prior periods presented. We use ARR as a performance metric. ARR should be viewed independently of net revenue and is not intended to be combined with it.

1. Effective at the beginning of the first quarter of fiscal 2026 HPE implemented an organizational change by (i) merging the Server, Hybrid Cloud, and Financial Services business segments into a new segment named Cloud & AI and (ii) transferring the Telco and Instant On businesses to Corporate Investments and Other from Networking. HPE reflected these changes to its segment information retrospectively for the four completed fiscal quarters of 2025, which primarily resulted in the realignment of net revenue and operating profit for each of the segments as described above. These changes had no impact on HPE's previously reported consolidated net revenue, net earnings, net earnings per share or total assets.

1. This combined company financial information represents the summation of the standalone financial information reported by HPE and the standalone financial information reported by Juniper Networks. This combined company financial information has not been prepared in accordance with Article 11 of Regulation S-X and does not give effect to the pro forma adjustments that might be required in connection with the preparation of pro forma financial information in accordance with Article 11 of Regulation S-X, and is not indicative of what the combined company's performance would have been had HPE and Juniper Networks been a combined company for the periods presented. HPE and Juniper Networks have different fiscal years: HPE's fiscal year ends on October 31, and Juniper Networks' fiscal year ended on December 31. This combined company financial information is based on available quarterly financial information of HPE and Juniper Networks according to their respective quarterly periods, and no calculations or adjustments have been performed to reconcile the differences in the differing quarterly reporting periods. The above combined company financial information includes 13 months of results for Juniper Networks, as (a) this was prepared using only publicly filed financial information of HPE and Juniper Networks and (b) HPE and Juniper Networks have different fiscal years (HPE's fiscal years end on October 31, and Juniper Networks' fiscal years ended on December 31). No calculations or adjustments have been performed in the above table to reconcile the differences in the differing quarterly reporting periods.

2. For purposes of calculating pro forma revenue growth outlook figures, HPE used $38,085 million and $10,326 million as FY25 revenues for HPE and the Networking segment, respectively. In the case of HPE revenue, this figure reflects adjustments consistent with Regulation S-X Article 11. In the case of Networking segment revenue, this has been normalized to align 8 months of Juniper Networks results pre-acquisition close to HPE's fiscal quarter ends. The normalized Networking revenue also reflects the move of non-core assets out of Networking into Corporate Investments and Other. Normalized Networking (includes HPE Aruba and Juniper Networks) revenue by quarter were (in millions):

Total	Q4'25	Q3'25	Q2'25	Q1'25
$10,326	$2,722	$2,638	$2,444	$2,522

The internally prepared monthly financial data and the resulting figures above are based on what we believe to be reasonable estimates, calculations, and processes. However, Juniper Networks' internally prepared monthly financial data has not been reviewed or audited by either Juniper Networks or HPE's auditors. Furthermore, the above amounts will differ from reported amounts in HPE's or Juniper's SEC filings. As such, readers should not place undue reliance on this information nor treat this as indicative of historical or future performance.

3. Following HPE's acquisition of Juniper Networks in July 2025, HPE historical and Combined Company results for the three months ended July 31, 2025 include Juniper Networks revenue and operating profit for the month of July, of $480 million and $76 million, respectively.

4. Following the acquisition of Juniper and effective beginning in the first quarter of fiscal 2026 on a prospective basis, certain shared expenses will be realigned between the segments. For purposes of the combined company financial information, this change has been applied retroactively.
